

Press Release 8981

Date of Issue:14th March 2014

The McOnie Agency toasts to being a finalist in Surrey

Last night, 13th March, The McOnie Agency was named a finalist in the 'Companies with a turnover up to £1 million' category at the Toast of Surrey business awards celebrated in G Live in Guildford.

Managing director of The McOnie Agency, Sarah McOnie said "We wish to congratulate Perfect Pitch who won the award in our category and we also want to pay tribute to all the finalists on the night. It was a great evening to meet other successful businesses and make new friends.

The McOnie Agency is proud to be a thriving B2B public relations agency in Surrey and looks forward to recruiting talented new PR professionals in the future."

Ends

Notes to editors

Photo Caption: Mary D Fitzgerald and Pauline Gillan with the Toast of Surrey Finalist Award.

About The McOnie Agency:

For more than 20 years, The McOnie Agency has been striving to communicate the importance of safety at work, developing and delivering some of the most inspired media campaigns in the industry that guarantee to make safety interesting. With the increasing importance of safety as a main topic in the boardroom and the recognition by business leaders that good safety practice means good and profitable business, the need for a specialist PR agency is obvious. The agency delivers interesting, direct, factual and effective communication that helps companies take the resisted message of the importance of safety at work and ensure it is informative, engaging and memorable.

For Additional Information (excluding photograph usage):

Contact Will McOnie

The McOnie Agency

Tel: 01483 414751

Email: william@mconieagency.com

Press Release Reference No: 8981